Fun, Food, Fireworks Planned for Fourth

More games, an appearance by "Kentucky Giant" Jim Porter and an evening Bluegrass concert highlight the new events at the 1992 Crescent Hill Old Fashioned Fourth of July. The ninth annual festival will be held at the Peterson-Dumesnil House, 301 South Peterson Avenue, on July 4. Once again, it has been designated a Louisville Top 40 Outdoor Festival.

The celebration begins at 11 a.m., with an antique car parade from the Masonic Home at 3701 Frankfort Avenue west on Frankfort Avenue to Peterson Avenue. More than 40 antique cars are expected to participate, and all of them will be on display at the Peterson-Dumesnil House in the afternoon.

A stage on the lawn of the Peterson-Dumesnil House will feature entertainment from noon to 10:30 p.m., when fireworks will fill the sky. Popular Bluegrass band New Horizon is the headliner, performing from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. Six other musical groups will also perform, along with magician and juggler Will Chatham and actor Gregory Acker, who portrays "Kentucky Giant" Jim Porter, a 6' 21" legend who lived in Louisville in the 1800's. A complete entertainment schedule is printed on page 5. All of the entertainment is free.

Browsers and serious shoppers will have plenty to see at the arts and crafts fair, which is held under the trees surrounding the Peterson-Dumesnil House. Some 50 artists and craftspeople will be selling paintings, woodwork, pottery and wearable art from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. A list of early registrants is on page 2.

A variety of games will entertain people of all ages, and benefit St. Joseph's Children's Home, St. Leonard School and the Frankfort Avenue Business Association.

New this year are a hoop shoot to test basketball shooting skills, an expanded miniature golf course, an old fashioned fishing pond and several other games. Back for another year are the famous Crescent Hill Community Council cake wheel, a leap frog game sponsored by Boy Scout Troop #1 and a variety of children's games staged by Metro Parks employees.

To maintain energy for all of the activity, you'll want to visit the food and drink stands. Barbecue chicken sandwiches, fish sandwiches, brats, ice cream, soft drinks, beer and many other treats will be available throughout the day.
